- 2.2 Study the extract below and answer the questions that follow.

THREE MONOPOLIES THAT SOUTH AFRICA SHOULD END

Entities that are protected by legislation morph into monopolies, resulting in a limited competition. Time and time again these legislated monopolies bank on the taxpayer's rands to bail them out of the repercussions of what seems to be chronic underperformance. Below is a list of industries that are overshadowed by state-run monopolies that, if deregulated and privatised, will yield far greater returns to the citizens of South Africa.

- Aviation
- Energy Supply
- Railways

3.1.2 Why is it beneficial for a country to engage in free trade? (1 x 2) (2)

3.2 Study the extract below and answer the questions that follow.

MORE PEOPLE RECEIVE GRANTS THAN PEOPLE WHO WORK

There are now more people who receive social grants in South Africa than there are people who work.

This is one of the findings of the latest survey by the South African Institute of Race Relations (IRR).

"These higher numbers can lead to social and political chaos," said Gerbrandt van Heerden, an analyst at this institute.

"The South African economy is currently in a recession and the government will find it particularly difficult to bear the cost of its welfare programs. As the economy stagnates and tax revenue decreases, demand for grants will also increase. Government will have to cut its budget in other areas to meet the demands of higher grants.

"We predict it will lead to even higher levels of violent protest actions."

"The government's inability to provide more and increased allowances will now stagnate or even deteriorate living standards."

"The poor and the unemployed are the people who will be the worst affected by it and it can cause a new kind of misery for them, which will increase the desperation in poor communities.
