1.1 EXTRACT A

[A conversation between Stephen Kumalo and Absalom.]

He passed again through the great gate in the grim high wall, and they brought the boy to him. Again he took the lifeless hand in his own, and was again moved to tears, this time by the dejection of his son.
. Are you in health, my son?
The son stood and moved his head to one side, and looked for a while at the one window, and then moved and looked at the other, but not at his father.	5
. I am in health, my father.
. I have some business for you, my son. Are you certain that you wish to marry this girl?	10
. I can marry her.
. There is a friend of mine, a white priest, and he will see if it can be arranged, and he will see the Bishop to see if it can be done quickly. And he will get a lawyer for you.
There is a spark of life in the eyes, of some hope maybe.	15
. You would like a lawyer?
. They say one can be helped by a lawyer.
. You told the police that these other two were with you?
. I told them. And now I have told them again.
. And then?	20
. And then they sent for them and fetched them from their cells.
. And then?
. And then they were angry with me, and cursed me in front of the police, and said that I was trying to bring them into trouble.

1.2 EXTRACT B

[Kumalo talks to the boy.]

. That means you are going tomorrow, inkosana.
. Yes, tomorrow. On the narrow gauge train, you know, the small train.
. Au! inkosana.
. But I'm coming back for the holidays. Then we'll learn some more Zulu.	5
. That will be a pleasure, said Kumalo simply.
. Goodbye then, umfundisi.
. Goodbye, inkosana.
Then he said in Zulu, Go well, inkosana. The small boy thought for a moment, and frowned in concentration. Then he said in Zulu, Stay well, umfundisi. So Kumalo said, Au! Au! in astonishment, and the small boy laughed and raised his cap, and was gone in a great cloud of dust. He galloped up the road, but stopped and turned round and saluted, before he set out on his way. And Kumalo stood there, and the young demonstrator came and stood by him, both watching the small boy.	10 15
. And that, said Kumalo earnestly to the demonstrator, is a small angel from God.
They turned to walk back to the house, and Kumalo said, So you think many things can be done.	20
. There are many things that can be done, umfundisi.
. Truly?
. Umfundisi, said the young man, and his face was eager, there is no reason why this valley should not be what it was before. But it will not happen quickly. Not in a day.	25
. If God wills, said Kumalo humbly, before I die. For I have lived my life in destruction.

NOTE: Answer the questions set on BOTH extracts, i.e. QUESTION 2.1 AND QUESTION 2.2.

2.1 EXTRACT C

[Utterson's search for Hyde.]

From that time forward, Mr Utterson began to haunt the door in the by-street of shops. In the morning before office hours, at noon when business was plenty and time scarce, and at night under the face of the fogged city moon, by all lights and at all hours of solitude or concourse, the lawyer was to be found on his chosen post.	5
And at last his patience was rewarded. It was a fine dry night; frost in the air; the streets as clean as a ball-room floor; the lamps, unshaken by any wind, drawing a regular pattern of light and shadow. By ten o'clock, when the shops were closed, the by-street was very solitary and, in spite of the low growl of London from all round, very silent. Small sounds carried far; domestic sounds out of the houses were clearly audible on either side of the roadway; and the rumour of the approach of any passenger preceded him by a long time. Mr Utterson had been some minutes at his post, when he was aware of an odd, light footstep drawing near. In the course of his nightly patrols he had long grown accustomed to quaint effect with which the footfalls of a single person, while he is still a great way off, suddenly spring out distinct from the vast hum and clatter of the city.	10 15

Or, if you shall so prefer to choose, a new province of knowledge and new avenues to fame and power shall be laid open to you, here, in this room, upon the instant; and your sight shall be blasted by a prodigy to stagger the unbelief of Satan.
Sir said I, affecting a coolness that I was far from truly possessing, you speak enigmas, and you will perhaps not wonder that I hear you with no very strong impression of belief. But I have gone too far in the way of inexplicable services to pause before I see the end.	5
It is well, replied my visitor. Lanyon, you remember your vows: what follows is under the seal of our profession. And now, you who have so long been bound to the most narrow and material views, you who have denied the virtue of transcendental medicine, you who have derided your superiors. behold!	10
He put the glass to his lips and drank at one gulp. A cry followed; he reeled, staggered, clutched at the table and held on, staring with injected eyes, gasping with open mouth; and as I looked there came, I thought, a change. he seemed to swell. his face became suddenly black and the features seemed to melt and alter. and the next moment I had sprung to my feet and leaped back against the wall, my arm raised to shield me from that prodigy, my mind submerged in terror.	15

[Macbeth shares his thoughts.]

MACBETH:	If it were done when tis done, then `twere well It were done quickly. If the assassination Could trammel up the consequence, and catch, With his surcease, success; that but this blow Might be the be-all and the end-all here,	5
	But here upon this bank and shoal of time, We'd jump the life to come. But in these cases We still have judgement here; that we but teach Bloody instructions, which being taught, return To plague the inventor. This even-handed justice Commends the ingredients of our poisoned chalice To our own lips. He's here in double trust.	10
	First, as I am his kinsman and his subject, Strong both against the deed; then as his host, Who should against his murderer shut the door, Not bear the knife myself. Besides, this Duncan Hath borne his faculties so meek, hath been So clear in his great office, that his virtues Will plead like angels trumpet-tongued against The deep damnation of his taking-off;	15
	And Pity, like a naked new-born babe, Striding the blast, or Heaven's cherubim, horsed Upon the sightless couriers of the air, Shall blow the horrid deed in every eye, That tears shall drown the wind. I have no spur To prick the sides of my intent, but only Vaulting ambition, which o'erleaps itself And falls on the other.	20

[Macbeth sees Banquo's ghost.]

MACBETH:	Here had we now our country's honour roofed, Were the graced person of our Banquo present; Who may I rather challenge for unkindness Than pity for mischance!
ROSS:	His absence, sir Lays blame upon his promise. Please your highness To grace us with your royal company.	5
MACBETH:	The table's full.
LENNOX:	Here is a place reserved, sir.
MACBETH:	Where?	10
LENNOX:	Here, my good lord. What is that moves your highness?
MACBETH:	Which of you have done this?
LORDS:	What, my good lord?
MACBETH:	Thou canst not say I did it. Never shake Thy gory locks at me.	15
ROSS:	Gentlemen, rise. His highness is not well.
LADY M:	Sit, worthy friends. My lord is often thus, And hath been from his youth. Pray you, keep seat; The fit is momentary, upon a thought He will again be well. If much you note him, You shall offend him and extend his passion. Feed, and regard him not. (to Macbeth) Are you a man?	20
MACBETH:	Ay, and a bold one, that dare look on that Which might appal the Devil.
LADY M:	O proper stuff! This is the very painting of your fear. This is the air-drawn dagger which, you said, Led you to Duncan. O, these flaws and starts, Imposters to true fear, would well become A woman's story at a winter's fire, Authorized by her grandam. Shame itself! Why do you make such faces? When all's done, You look but on a stool.	25 30

[Mr M is with Thami and Isabel.]

ISABEL:	Oh, come on ... !
MR M:	[Rubbing his hands with pleasure] All I can say is ... Splendid! Splendid! Splendid! The intellect in action. Challenge and response. That is what a good debate is all about. And whatever you do, young lady, don't underestimate your achievement in winning the popular vote. It wasn't easy for that audience to vote against Mbikwana. He's one of them, and a very popular one of them, I might add. [Wagging a finger at Thami] You were quite shameless in the way you tried to exploit that loyalty.	5 10
THAMI:	[Another laugh] Was that wrong?
MR M:	No. As the saying goes, all is fair in love, war and debating. But the fact that you didn't succeed is what makes me really happy. I am very proud of our audience. In my humble opinion they are the real winners this afternoon. You two just had to talk and argue. Anybody can do that. They had to listen ... intelligently!	15
ISABEL:	Well, all I know is that I had a good time.
MR M:	That was very apparent, if I may say so, Miss Dyson. I can't thank you enough for coming to us today. I sincerely hope there'll be another occasion.	20
ISABEL:	Same here.
MR M:	Good! [Consults his watch] Now you must excuse me. There is a staff meeting waiting for me. Will you look after Miss Dyson, please, Mbikwana?	25

[Thami and Isabel are going over their notes.]

ISABEL:	Was he speaking for you as well?
THAMI:	He speaks for me on nothing!
ISABEL:	Relax. I know that. That's why I tried to ask you separately and why I'd ask you again. Would you like to come to tea next Sunday to meet my family? It's not a polite invitation. They really want to meet you.	5
THAMI:	Me? Why? Are they starting to get nervous?
ISABEL:	Oh come off it. Thami. Don't be like that. They're always nervous when it comes to me. But this time it happens to be genuine interest. I've told you. I talk about you at home. They know I have a good time with you ... that we're a team ... which they are now very proud of incidentally ... and that we're cramming like lunatics so that we can put up a good show at the festival. Is it so strange that they want to meet you after all that? Honestly, sometimes dealing with the two of you is like walking on a tight-rope. I'm always scared I'm going to put a foot wrong and ... well, I just hate being scared like that. [A few seconds of truculent silence between the two of them] What is going on, Thami? Between you two? There's something very wrong, isn't there?	10 15 20
THAMI:	No more than usual.

5.1 'THE FUR COAT'*EXTRACT I

[Paddy and his wife discuss the fur coat.]

One thousand guineas? For a coat? Sure, that's a whole year's salary.
It is.
Paddy drew into himself. And, she said, in a cautious voice, is that the kind of coat you had in mind?	5
She laughed, satisfied at having taken him off his perch.
Yerrah, not at all. I thought I might pick up a nice little coat for, maybe, thirty or forty or, at the outside, fifty quid. Would that be too much?
Go down to Switzerland in the morning and bring it home on your back.
But, even there, she thought she detected a touch of the bravo, as if he was still feeling himself a great fellow. She let it pass. She said she might have a look around. There was no hurry. She did not bring up the matter again for quite fifteen minutes.	10
Paddy! About that fur coat. I sincerely hope you don't think I'm being vulgar?	15
How could you be vulgar?
Oh, sort of nouveau riche . I don't want a fur coat for show-off. She leaned forward eagerly. Do you know the reason why I want a fur coat?
To keep you warm. What else?
Oh, well, that too, I suppose, yes, she agreed shortly. But you must realize that from this on we'll be getting asked out to parties and receptions and so forth. And . well . I haven't a rag to wear!	20

5.2 'A CHIP OF GLASS RUBY'

EXTRACT J

[The Bamjee family is in the living-room.]

The family lived in the dining-room . the three other rooms in the house were full of beds . and they were all there. The older children shared a bottle of ink while they did their homework, and the two little ones pushed a couple of empty milk bottles in and out the chair legs. The three-year-old fell asleep and was carted away by one of the girls. They all drifted off to bed eventually; Bamjee himself went before the older children . he was a fruit and vegetable hawker and was up at half past four every morning to get to the market by five. Not long nowq said Mrs. Bamjee. The older children looked up and smiled at him. He turned his back on her. She still wore the traditional clothing of a Moslem woman, and her body, which was scraggy and unimportant as a dress on a peg when it was not host to a child, was wrapped in the trailing rags of a cheap sari, and her thin black plait was greased. When she was a girl, in the Transvaal town where they lived still, her mother fixed a chip of glass ruby in her nostril; but she had abandoned that adornment as too old-style, even for her, long ago. She was up until long after midnight, turning out leaflets. She did it as if she might have been pounding chillies.	5 10 15

Poem – Barolong Seboni

1 We do not need
2 these jaggered words
3 that dig a trench between us
4 each time they are uttered

5 those epithets
6 sharp like spokes
7 that pierce the heart when spoken

8 there is no room in my cup
9 for these acidic words of sarcasm
10 that corrode my sensitivity

11 these cold and icy terms tossed
12 to deaden the heart
13 venomous words
14 from your serpentine tongue
15 that infect the feeling....

16 Let us speak, love
17 in gentler tones
18 timid as the lamb
19 is soft
20 woolly words
21 worn to stand strong against the
22 cold-bitterness of the world

23 Better still
24 let us search in our speech
25 for words deep as the soul is still
26 that will spell our thoughts
27 in the silence of our smiles.

- 6.1.1 Complete the following sentences by filling in the missing words. Write only the word next to the question numbers (6.1.1(a) to 6.1.1(d)) in the ANSWER BOOK.

AND

- 6.2 Read the poem below carefully and then answer the set questions. The number of marks allocated to each question serves as a guide to the expected length of your answer.

Still I rise – Maya Angelou

- 1 You may write me down in history
- 2 With your bitter, twisted lies,
- 3 You may tread me in the very dirt
- 4 But still, like dust, I'll rise.

5 Does my sassiness upset you?
6 Why are you beset with gloom?
7 `Cause I walk like ~~love~~ got oil wells
8 Pumping in my living room.

9 Just like moons and like suns,
10 with the certainty of tides,
11 Just like hopes springing high,
12 Still I ~~do~~ rise.

13 Did you want to see me broken?
14 Bowed head and lowered eyes?
15 Shoulders falling down like teardrops,
16 Weakened by my soulful cries?

17 Does my haughtiness offend you?
18 Don~~d~~ you take it awful hard
19 `Cause I laugh like ~~love~~ got gold mines
20 Diggin~~g~~ in my own backyard.

21 You may shoot me with your words,
22 You may cut me with your eyes,
23 You may kill me with your hatefulness,
24 But still, like air, I ~~do~~ rise.

25 Does my sexiness upset you?
26 Does it come as a surprise
27 That I dance like ~~love~~ got diamonds
28 At the meeting of my thighs?

29 Out of the huts of history~~s~~ shame
30 I rise
31 Up from a past that~~s~~ rooted in pain
32 I rise.
33 I~~m~~ a black ocean, leaping and wide,
34 Welling and swelling I bear in the tide.

35 Leaving behind nights of terror and fear
36 I rise
37 Into a daybreak that~~s~~ wondrously clear
38 I rise
39 Bringing the gifts that my ancestors gave,
40 I am the dream and the hope of the slave.
41 I rise
42 I rise
43 I rise.
